

The Pop Just Won't Stop!

It's certainly going to be a busy couple of months for Pop-Up Vintage Fairs London. They will be at Old Spitalfields Market on Saturday 17th and Bank Holiday Monday 26th August, with 40 vintage stalls offering a range of vintage clothes, homeware and collectables. The Bank Holiday event will run alongside the Paw Pageant – a dog show with a difference! A host of doggy dudes will be donning designer fashions to fund raise for Battersea Dog and Cats Home then the public can enter their pooches into the Paw Pageant and parade them on the 'dogwalk'!

On Sunday 8th September they're back at St Stephen's Rosslyn Hill, Hampstead with their very best vintage traders selling ladies and gents' vintage clothing and more vintage curiosities than you could imagine. Relax in the Vintage Tea Room with live entertainment and take advantage of a makeover courtesy of Pincurls & Pout.

Sunday 15th September they will be joining forces with London's largest Antiques, Collectors, 20th Century & Art Deco Fair in the Great Hall at Alexandra Palace with their very own dedicated vintage section, alongside over 400 antique stalls. And finally on Saturday 21st September it's their regular spot at Old Spitalfields Market on the third Saturday of every month – phew!

[www.facebook.com/
popupvintagefairs](http://www.facebook.com/popupvintagefairs)